听写正文 / QUESTIONS 01–30

P01 Hello, and welcome to the show. New season, new stories, new moments that could change the world and maybe even change us. I'm Coy Wire.

P02 This is CNN 10, 10 minutes of going places, meeting people, asking questions, and getting smarter together. No shout in the news, no opinion, no slant. I simply tell you the what, letting you decide what to think.

P03 The world moves fast, but we've got the best 10 minutes in news to keep up. CNN 10 is back. We begin today with Mother Nature reminding us who's boss.

P04 Several significant earth science stories across the globe, starting in Hawaii, where Hurricane Lala battered the islands over the weekend, its eyewall brushing Hawaii's big islands Saturday as the Category 1 storm moved west. A hurricane does not have to make [01] _____ to cause major damage. Lala didn't, but its impact was felt across the state.

P05 Videos obtained by CNN show a surreal scene where [02] _____ and sustained 80 mile per hour winds left more than 130,000 customers without power. That's about 70% of the big island. It's been really surreal and kind of unreal that we're getting like Lala like right now.

P06 And it said like in three decades we haven't got one like this big.

P07 Hawaii's governor announced at least one person had been killed in a storm related car accident. Emergency crews are working around the clock to restore power and rescue [03] _____.

P08 Lala was downgraded to a [04] _____ Sunday as it continued northwest across the rest of the state, dumping more than two to three feet of rain in some areas in less than 24 hours. Tropical storms typically hit cooler ocean temperatures as they approach Hawaii, but Lala remained over warmer waters due to an ongoing maritime heat wave in the Pacific thanks to the developing Super El Nino.

P09 Now to Indonesia, where rescuers are racing the clock to search for [05] _____ following a series of severe earthquakes.

P10 Officials say a 7.7 magnitude quake struck off the coast of Flores Island, home to roughly two million people and the popular tourist hotspot Bali, around 6 a.m. local time Saturday morning. Just hours after the first earthquake, another 6.9 magnitude quake rattled northern Sumatra, followed later by a third 5.7 magnitude quake roughly 600 miles to the north. Flores experienced nearly 1,000 [06] _____ following the initial quake.

P11 Roughly 1,300 homes across the island were severely damaged, forcing many residents to [07] _____ with just the clothes on their backs.

P12 At the moment we don't dare go home just yet because the situation isn't [08] _____. We still worry that there might be more tremors coming.

P13 As of this taping, at least 50 people have been killed and scores more have been injured. Makeshift hospitals have been set up to treat the wounded and emergency officials are working to access isolated villages that were cut off by [09] _____. Officials say more than 50,000 aid packages are en route to the island.

P14 Pop quiz hot shot.

P15 Which famous artist led the 20th century art movement known as Fauvisme?

P16 Henri Matisse, Pablo Picasso, Andy Warhol or Frida Kahlo?

P17 If you said Matisse, go on brush your shoulders off. Fauvism, French for wild beasts, is a [10] _____ inspired by the artist's bold, untamed use of color.

P18 In Italy, police say they have recovered three stolen paintings by the renowned French artists Cezanne, Matisse and Renoir. Masked [11] _____ stole the art right off of the walls of a museum near the northern city of Parma this past March. They broke in and grabbed the works all within three minutes.

P19 Local media say that the paintings were found in a cardboard box used for a flat screen TV in the [12] _____ of one of the alleged thieves' homes. Art experts say their value exceeded $10 million. The foundation celebrated the recovery, posting on Instagram that, quote, beauty has prevailed.

P20 Now to a dilemma that has been plaguing communities across the U.S. this year.As companies race to develop more artificial intelligence models, there's a growing need for more buildings and electricity to power them. There are more than 4,000 data centers already built or [13] _____ in the United States alone, with another 1,500 being proposed.Our Shimon Prokopez visits communities that are fighting to keep them from being built in their own backyards.

P21 The political [14] _____ to data centers has been fierce nationwide, aided by the rise and fear of artificial intelligence.

P22 We don't need it. We need water. In Utah, [15] _____ are fighting a proposed 40,000-acre data center that, when combined, is twice the size of Manhattan.

P23 Maybe this decision should be made after the election.

P24 So meetings like this in Union, Missouri, are happening all across the country and really showing the fear and concern.

P25 The burdens would stay local. The [16] _____ would leave town.We are asking you, please, stop this theft now.

P26 What could a data center do to a community like this? To find out, we traveled 850 miles from Union, Missouri, to a place already familiar with data centers. Loudoun County, Virginia, outside D.C., this is Data Center Alley.

P27 Just in this area alone, there are over 200 buildings that contain data centers, some 50 million [17] _____, enough to fit eight pentagons.

P28 Having even one data center can double the amount of [18] _____. We've been able to build 30-some schools and 15 fire stations and six libraries.

P29 But not everything went right.

P30 It is like having [19] _____ jet airplanes flying overhead. Because you can hear it right now, right? Like, take a listen here, right? This is... That hum you hear, that's coming from this, a massive data center just feet from these homes.

P31 What's it like when you're trying to sleep? It's like a July 4th fireworks going on.

P32 Last night, my son Lucas got up in the middle of the night and said he couldn't sleep and came into our room. So it is [20] _____ their sleep and they have to go to school.

P33 There's another problem.

P34 If it was a southern wind today, all that would be blowing right over this, our houses.

P35 Diesel [21] _____, when they're tested, they pollute.

P36 Those are the days in particular that I feel [22] _____ in my throat.

P37 How do you respond to them?

P38 It's a very unfortunate situation because when it was built and [23] _____, it was intended to be on the grid. Then in 2022, we had Dominion tell us, well, we're out of power.

P39 They had already built and leased the building. So the only solution for them was the gas turbines. It is a [24] _____.Eventually the power will be delivered to the site, but that doesn't help them tonight when they're trying to get to sleep.

P40 You're opening a Pandora's box that can't be closed.

P41 Back in Missouri, they're fighting two proposed new data center campuses in Franklin County.

P42 Bill Hubbard's century old farm is next to one of them. Recent reports about a Georgia data center [25] _____ from nearby farms has Hubbard worried.

P43 They say they're not going to drill wells.All these guarantees, you know, 737s weren't supposed to crash.

P44 The company behind one of the campuses says they won't tax [26] _____.

P45 We're developing a closed loop water system so it [27] _____ water. We believe we could develop them in a conscious way, getting feedback from the community.

P46 Most here are like the Hubbards. They worry because the land is their life.

P47 This is home. There's no amount of money that could get me to sell this. No amount of money.

P48 So what do you think? If AI becomes more useful, should these companies build more data centers to keep up with demand? Who should pay for the [28] _____ needed to support the AI boom? What would a responsible AI data center look like? Feel free to press pause and discuss.

P49 Today's story getting a 10 out of 10. Tiny legs, huge personalities, and zero respect for aerodynamics.

P50 Around 130 Corgis from eight different countries took their ultimate test on the field in this year's Corgi Race Festival on Saturday. The [29] _____ takes place in what the organizers call the, quote, European Corgi Capital in Vilnius, Lithuania. Guided by chew toys and trees, these furry low riders put those bread loaf bodies into sport mode.

P51 But speed wasn't the only corgi category for competition. Check out the chonk who took home gold for loudest bark. The winner, Mr. Corgington from California, registered 111 [30] _____, roughly the volume of a chainsaw.

P52 Proof without a shadow of a doubt that these short kings deliver more than just cuteness, but some undeniable talents as well.

P53 It's shout out time now. The reason this is the best 10 minutes in news is because of you.

P54 Best viewers on the like Mr. Huffman and Mrs. Coaster at Mattoon High School in Illinois. Braden sent us this, a handmade piece of art which might just become a really great place, a dish for me to put all my doodads, thingamajigs, gizmos, and knickknacks. This is going to be awesome.Thank you so much for thinking of us.

P55 And our next shout out goes to Ms. Sims and all of my patriots at Burkmar High School in Lilburn, Georgia. She's also a floor manager at Fox 5 here in Atlanta, on top of coaching the Lady Patriots basketball and soccer teams.

P56 I see you, Coach Sims. Rise up. Make it an awesome day, everyone, and I'll see you right back here tomorrow.

P57 I'm Coy Wire, and we are CNN 10.
