听写正文 / QUESTIONS 01–30

P01 Badia! Dancing in September! What's up, sunshine? I'm Coy Wire, and a brand new month means 30 new chances to learn something, try something, and treat someone with kindness. 10 minutes, big world, let's start this month strong.

P02 September 1st marks the beginning of meteorological fall in the [01] _____ and meteorological spring in the southern hemisphere.

P03 So depending on where you're watching us, either grab the pumpkin spice or start smelling the flowers, and let's get to the news. All right, we begin at one of Earth's greatest [02] _____, where nature has given us another reminder of just how quickly beauty can become dangerous. A devastating flash flood tore through parts of the Grand Canyon National Park Saturday.

P04 Dozens of hikers and campers were [03] _____, many by helicopter. Approximately 15 people were still missing as of this taping. At least one person had died.

P05 One hiker described a wall of [04] _____ rushing toward their group, waterfalls suddenly appearing, boulders tumbling, and landslides erupting around them. The flooding struck the Bright Angel Creek corridor after intense thunderstorms. Popular hiking and camping areas have been closed.

P06 The Grand Canyon plunges more than a mile deep in places and exposes rocks approaching 2 billion years old. More than 4.4 million people visited last year. And the disaster is another reminder that flash floods can happen quickly, especially in [05] _____ where water has nowhere else to go.

P07 Now to an update on the conflict in the Middle East. U.S. Central Command says American forces struck two Iranian rocket launchers in Larak Island Sunday. The U.S. military says Iranian Revolutionary Guard forces were preparing to use rockets to [06] _____ sea mines into the Strait of Hormuz.

P08 Just days before, U.S. President Donald Trump warned Iran against placing new mines in the Strait, and the U.S. military said it had just finished clearing mines from international [07] _____ there. Roughly one-fifth of the world's oil supply has historically traveled through this narrow passage. Iran responded by firing ballistic missiles toward two U.S. bases in Jordan.

P09 Iran's Revolutionary Guard called the Americans strike a, quote, [08] _____ and deadly mistake, unquote. This was the first publicly confirmed direct exchange of fire between U.S. and Iranian forces in about a month.

P10 Pop quiz hot shot about what percentage of the world's population has naturally red hair?

P11 2%, 8%, 15, or 25? If you said 2%, you're red hot.

P12 Natural red hair is one of the world's rarest hair colors. It's most common among people with Northern and Northwestern European [09] _____.

P13 Once a year, thousands of redheads from more than 80 countries come together in the city of Tilburg, Netherlands, to celebrate their [10] _____ at the Dutch Redhead Days Festival.

P14 And get this, in 2005, Dutch artist Bart Rouwenhorst put on an [11] _____ looking for a handful of red-haired models. Instead, hundreds responded. So rather than tell most of them no, he invited them all, and an international festival was born. Our Ben Hunt has more.

P15 Seeing red? That is the beauty of the Redhead Days Festival in the Netherlands. It's estimated that less than 2% of the world's population has naturally red hair, and [12] _____ say it's a rare chance to be surrounded by people with similar roots.

P16 Every year, the Dutch city of Tilburg turns into a sea of ginger, copper, and strawberry. The three-day event draws thousands of redheads from all around the world for a chance to show off their [13] _____.

P17 It's just a really cool thing, seeing so many people, it's just really cool.

P18 And enjoy music, food, and [14] _____ that cover everything from skin cancer prevention to makeup tips.

P19 I was [15] _____ to create a product for redheads because we can't find redhead mascaras and for brows, so we made a little makeup booth.

P20 Though red is the star of this show, organizers say everyone is invited. Because the [16] _____ and positive energy of the event is enough to make anyone blend in.

P21 You don't have to be a redhead to be welcome, because we just celebrate the humanness and like the unique points of a human being. We just celebrate it.

P22 From people standing out in a crowd to students preparing to stand out in the sky. Birds flying high, you know how they feel, because one New York City high school is helping students explore careers in the aviation industry, learning everything from airplane mechanics to [17] _____, and after graduating, they are fully equipped to take flight.

P23 There's a lot of opportunity in this aviation that a lot of high schools don't have.

P24 All right, you can tell me how this purchase works.

P25 Aviation High School is a public New York City high school that is also a federal aviation administration regulated aviation [18] _____ school. We are one of the largest in the country, all the traditional high school coursework, plus hands-on work that can get them a job in the aviation industry right after high school.

P26 At aviation, students learn every aspect of the plane. They specialize in [19] _____ that allow them to succeed in careers in aircraft management and manufacturing, taking on roles as airplane mechanics, air traffic controllers, and flight dispatchers as soon as they graduate.

P27 We want to make sure that they're in class every day, that they're studying every day, that they're getting all their jobs done properly, because again, there's people's lives at stake when they get into the [20] _____ to work on the airplanes that we all fly on.

P28 You know, there's like so many different parts of the plane that you really need to have some idea of each section, and really every single class prepares you somewhat for that for that road into the aviation field.

P29 Like other career and technical high schools, Aviation High struggles with [21] _____ women. In fact, women make up less than 10% of all skilled trade jobs across the country.

P30 I think in any class I'm in, there's less than 10 girls in that class. Every day, I feel like I have to prove myself, and that's hard, but it's very [22] _____ when I finish at the same pace that the boys do.

P31 Getting into Aviation High isn't easy. In 2023, just over 4,000 applicants competed for only 500 seats at the school. Students travel by train, bus, and ferry from all over New York City, [23] _____ up to two and a half hours to attend the school.

P32 So it's very early mornings. Sometimes, like currently, I have to be here about like 6.30, because I'm coming to practice in for my [24] _____. I mean, it's worth the commute to come here to do what I'm doing right now, but it is sometimes very lengthy.

P33 [25] _____ are definitely now getting a lot more focus, and schools like ours that are aligned in the industry that has huge need, of course, is creating another major focus for education systems across the country.

P34 The numbers they're predicting, the desire for airlines to find technicians yesterday is already felt, so it's something that we're dealing with. They're putting together packages to try and [26] _____ technicians to their company, because the need is so huge.

P35 You can see the world, and you're not locked down at a desk. You're always doing something different. It makes college an option for you instead of a [27] _____. You know, college isn't the only route to success at aviation, while in other schools, it's pushed, of course.

P36 Today's story, getting a 10 out of 10above the rim and half a million bucks for some of the most electrifying few seconds of basketball. Welcome to Dunk Man. NBA legend Shaquille O'Neal figured, if everybody loves the dunks, why wait for the rest of the game? The first pro league dedicated entirely to [28] _____ dunking.

P37 The best dunkers on the planet came together in Atlanta for the [29] _____ Dunkman World Championship. With $500,000 on the line, our Andy Scholes was there.

P38 I wanted to bring all the best dunkers, give them their own [30] _____. You know, everybody has their internet platform. I wanted to bring these guys, because listen, our professional guys are not stepping up for the fans. I wanted to do something great for the fans.

P39 And the dunks in the final were unbelievable. We saw guys jump over motorcycles, jump over cars. We had a dunker even do the high jump, and in the end, it was 21-year-old high flyer Cam Hazard from Texas that was named the first ever Dunkman World Champion, bringing home a cool half a million dollar prize.

P40 This is my first dunk contest, and I just came out on top. So a lot of people aren't going to believe that, but I just started posting it two years ago. Never thought it would go anywhere, and now I'm on top.

P41 All right, friends. New month means new opportunities for us to share your 10 out of 10 moments. Send us something good to cnn10 at cnn.com. Your wins, milestones, highlights, hidden talents, or achievements, and you just might be featured in our September 10th episode of CNN 10.

P42 All right, I've got time for one shout out today. Mr. Sam at the Transition Education Center in White Bear Lake, Minnesota. The advisory class made this custom cutting board.

P43 This is for chopping or knocking if I need good luck. Happy first day of school, and thank you so much. Be curious, be kind, and if life puts a rim in front of you, rise up and throw down.

P44 I'm Coy Wire, and we are CNN 10.
